Scientific Connections Through Inquiry Errata All 1st Edition Levels

The author of Scientific Connections Through Inquiry (SCI) notes the following errors in the 1st editions of the following levels:

Level 0

Student Book Page 3 - In the third example photograph set, the photograph of bracket fungi to the right of the stone staircase and building is incorrectly placed as an example of natural Earth. Bracket fungi are biological. You may either replace “One of these is natural Earth and the other is human-made. Which is which? How can you tell?” with “One of these is living/biological and the other is human-made. Which is which? How can you tell?” or you can cut out and replace the photo with the image below prior to the lesson.
